

ATTENTION!!!!

VETERANS WHO SERVED FROM 2002-2016

If you (or someone you know) served in the US Armed Forces between 2002 and 2016 it is likely that you used these earplugs.

Check out the article below to learn more about the settlement 3M Corp. reached with the US Government after a whistleblower came forward about the alleged defect.

Your Military

Company to pay $9 million after allegedly selling defective combat earplugs to US military

By: Kyle Rempfer July 26, 2018

A contracting company agreed to pay $9.1 million to the U.S. government after a whistleblower brought forward allegations that the company knowingly sold the U.S. military defective earplugs. (Arms)

Dual-Ended Combat Arms™ Earplugs

- Original patented dual-protection design
- Designed to allow wearer to hear low-level sounds when the yellow side of the earplug is inserted
- High-impulse noise attenuated quickly
- Remolded triple-flange-design fits most earcanals
- Comfortable and reusable
- No batteries required

Uncorded dual-ended version.
Optional cord available.
NSN #: 6515-01-466-2710

Military Times

If you have hearing loss or tinnitus as a result of your military service and you served during the times mentioned, you might be entitled to significant compensation.

Contact attorney and Afghanistan Veteran, retired US Army Major Matt Donald to find out more.

719 W. Market St
Baltimore, Ohio 43105

740-400-4194

info@donaldlawoffice.com

Fax – 740-400-4195

